

Gangs are NOT families.

Young people at risk crave belonging. Child and Youth Care workers provide safe, positive and empathic relationships to give young people an alternative to gang affiliations. It is not easy, as gangs exploit the need to belong by offering excitement, identity and purpose - until they do not need the young person any longer.

CYCCanada.ca

Garth Goodwin for the Council of Canadian Child and Youth Care Associations