

Tools for babysitters...

Snacks and videos work for baby sitters. Child and Youth Care workers are NOT baby sitters. They therapeutically intervene with youth at risk to heal and work through painful issues in addition to providing caretaking. Their work deserves the real tools of a profession with standards, regulations, certification and oversight. The Child and Youth Care association movement promotes professional development, education and realizing genuine professional status for this work.

Garth Goodwin for the Council of Canadian Child and Youth Care Associations